Annual Conference | September 20-21
New Orleans, Louisiana

Join Us September 19-21 New Orleans, Louisiana

Conference Overview

Join us in New Orleans for the bi-annual Conference of the International Association of Pediatric Feeding and Swallowing, where leading experts will convene to explore innovative strategies, emerging technologies, and best practices in the field of pediatric feeding and swallowing. From current research to practical clinical applications, this Conference is a vital platform for any professional dedicated to optimizing and improving outcomes in pediatric feeding. Over one and a half days, this Conference will bring together experienced clinicians and researchers for collaboration and discussion around real-life cases, current research data, and program development, with the backdrop of a bustling city known for its music and fun.

Conference Objectives

1. Integrate evidenced-based care into the development of individualized feeding plans for hospitalized and discharged medically complex children.
2. Apply quality improvement methodologies to care of patients with oropharyngeal dysphagia.
3. Formulate a comprehensive care plan for patients with PFD, drawing on principles of interdisciplinary care and using available community and government resources, with a focus on caregiver education.
4. Analyze and apply new research data in the field to the clinical management of children with PFD.

We invite you to join us! This is a wonderful networking opportunity to exchange knowledge and share best practices in the field of pediatric feeding difficulties.

Visit www.iapfs.org for Conference information and registration or contact the IAPFS Office at 412-366-5417 or admin@iapfs.org.
